The Committee appointed to draw up a narrative of the state of religion within our bounds, made their Report, which being read, and considered, was adopted, and is as follows, viz:

NARRATIVE

Of the state of Religion within the bounds of the Synod of South-Carolina and Georgia, from Dec. 1828 to Dec. 1829.

In this era of the Christian Church, every year more distinctly unfolds the purposes of Divine mercy.— Those glorious things which were spoken of Zion, instead of being the distant objects on which the eye of faith once rested, are spread immediately before us, and afford the most abundant evidence that the time to favour her has already arrived. This position will scarcely admit of a doubt in the minds of any who have, for a few years past, accurately traced the progress of the Redeemer's Kingdom among us.— Had the blessings which we have now to record as the fruit of the Divine Spirit, occurred ten years ago, they would have filled every Christian heart with amazement and delight. Every one would have been ready to exclaim, "What has God wrought?" Yet, at this eventful and auspicious period, they may possibly be regarded with no uncommon emotion.

To commence with revivals of religion which constitute the great nursery of the church, it may be observed that the past year has been peculiarly favored. In the Presbytery of South-Carolina, many of the churches have received a large addition to their number, particularly those in Laurens, Pickens, Anderson, Greenville, and Spartanburg districts, and one church in Abbeville. In the Presbytery of Harmony, Indiantown, Midway, Brewington, Williamsburgh, Hopewell, Concord and Salem, and one of two other churches have been remarkably blessed. It is estimated that between six and seven hundred souls have been born into the Kingdom as the fruit of a revival which is at present extending the sanctifying and saving influences of divine grace in that section of our church. In the Presbytery of Hopewell, which embraces the middle and upper sections of Georgia, the churches in the counties of Greene, Jackson, Hall, Gwinnett, Franklin and De Kalb, have all received precious tokens of the divine favour. The presence of Christ has been evidently manifest in giving efficacy to his word, by making it the wisdom of God and the power of God unto the salvation of many souls. Bethel Presbytery situated in the Northern part of South-Carolina, has also shared in a work of grace. Though no special revival of religion is reported, it appears from their statistical records that the accessions to the number of their communicants in several of their churches are much greater than usual. This is particularly the case, as it relates to Bethesda, Bethel, Beersheba, Bullocks-Creek, Salem and Shiloh. Many other churches within the bounds of the Synod, could be specified as having enjoyed in no common degree, the presence and smiles of their Redeemer. And so far as the knowledge of the Synod extends, there is not a single church in our connexion, of which it can confidently be said, that it is in a declining state. There is, however, a coldness and an apathy in some portions of our Zion that should lead the churches to fear that while they may suppose that they are rich and increased in goods and have need of nothing, they are actually poor, and in such a state as evidently to call for deep humiliation before God. For where there is not an actual increase in numbers or in graces, it may be generally concluded that there is a declension.

During the past year, the cause of Sabbath Schools has more forcibly than ever commended itself to our churches. Attached to many of these schools, are excellent libraries selected with a particular reference to the moral, intellectual, and religious improvement of the rising generation. And among the converts to the faith of the gospel, a larger number than usual have been of those who have been connected with these schools as teachers and pupils.

The cause of Temperance is also prevailing. A considerable number of societies have been formed to promote its objects. And even where no such societies have been regularly organized, we believe it is generally regarded as a rule among our people, to abstain altogether from the use of ardent spirit.

The American Bible Society, it is known, has resolved with the blessing of Divine Providence, and the co-operation of those who favour the cause, to supply every destitute family in the United States with a copy of the Holy Scriptures, previous to its annual meeting in May 1831. The State of South-Carolina has made arrangements at the late convention of their Bible Societies, to supply the destitute within its bounds by the first of January 1831, and the work is in progress. In the State of Georgia, the counties of Chatham, Bryan, Liberty, McIntosh, Camden and Richmond are already supplied. And efforts are making in many other parts of the State to carry into effect the same object.

The societies for educating poor, pious young men for the gospel ministry, are much in the same state in which they were last year. The most flourishing of these is the Georgia Education Society which reports fourteen Beneficiaries and funds to the amount of $1850. In the Presbytery of South-Carolina, and indeed in some other portions of the Synod, especially where revivals of religion have been enjoyed, a very considerable number of young men are looking forward to the sacred office.

In the Theological Seminary under the care of the Synod, there have been during the year five students of divinity, and the prospect is, that when it is once known that this Institution is fairly in operation, the number will be very considerably increased.

In our sea-port towns the mariner's cause is regarded every year with deeper interest. And we are happy to learn that Savannah is following the example of Charleston, by taking measures to provide a church for that class of our fellow-men, and by furnishing them with the stated ministry of the word.

Among the benevolent operations of the last year, it should be mentioned, that a number of individuals in Charleston, have erected a Depository for Tracts, Bibles, and Sunday School Books—where a large supply of each is kept, and where an Agent is employed in promoting the objects for which this building was erected. Great facilities are thus furnished for carrying on these plans of Christian benevolence, and for meeting the constantly increasing demand for such publications.

The Domestic Missionary Society of South Carolina and of Georgia, evince no symptoms of declension. If more laborers could be procured, more would be employed—And the call for more has been peculiarly urgent. “Come over and help us,” has been the cry from many a destitute portion of our bounds.

Another evidence of the general improvement of our churches, is the increasing spirit of liberality which appears to animate them—“Freely they have received, and freely they give, (so far as they are enlightened) to all objects connected with the kingdom of Christ. And that which has had great influence, among other means, in awakening this liberal spirit is the religious paper which is published under the patronage of the Synod.

In closing this hasty view of the State of Religion, it may be remarked that while there are many things which should encourage the friends of Zion to press forward in their labors of love—in their works of benevolence, and while they have great reason for gratitude to the Head of the Church for his propitious smiles, there are at least some few things against us which call for deep humiliation before God. Aside from the waste places scattered in every direction within our bounds, and from the vast numbers that are thronging the broad road which leads to death, there are many even within the pale of the church whose religion is not of that zealous character which it ought to be, especially in an age like this. There is too much of the world, and too little of Christianity in the conversation and conduct of the professed followers of the Redeemer. They seem to forget that he who was rich, for ourselves became poor, that we through his poverty might be rich ; and that in this, as in every other respect, he has left us an example that we should follow his steps. Let those then, who hope to be saved, and to be the honored instruments of saving others, dedicate themselves and their possessions, more unreservedly than ever to the cause of Christ. Let them learn at the foot of the Cross, the price of their redemption, and remember that to whom much is given, of them will much be required—For certainly in this age of light and Christian enterprise, apathy and indolence must receive a heavy rebuke.

Mr. Gildersleeve, and Dr. McDowell were appointed a Committee to have the foregoing Narrative published.

The Committee of Overtures reported the following, viz:

Overture, No. 3. Is it not expedient for Synod to give an opinion on the subject of Lay preaching, and decide to what extent it is sanctioned by the laws and general usage of the Presbyterian Church?

Overture, No. 4. Whether two, or more, regularly organized Congregations who have a stated supply, and not an installed Pastor, have a right to be represented in Presbytery by more than one Ruling Elder?

The foregoing Overtures were entered on the Docket.

A letter was received, and read before the Synod from the Rev. Daniel Baker, Pastor of the Independent Presbyterian Church in this City, in the name of the Session of said Church, affectionately inviting the Members of this Synod, in connection with the Pastor and Members of the First Presbyterian Church in this City, to unite with them on the ensuing Sabbath in commemorating the dying love of our common Lord.

Whereupon, It was on motion unanimously resolved, that this Synod do most cordially accept of this invitation.

Ordered, That an attested copy of the foregoing Minute be sent to Mr. Baker, by the Clerk.

The Committee appointed to examine the Records of the Presbytery of Georgia, reported, That they had examined these Minutes, and recommend that the same be approved to page 129; which Report was accepted, and the Minutes approved.

The Committee to whom was referred Overture, No. 1, made their report, which was accepted, and the Committee discharged. The Synod proceeded to consider the plan proposed by the Committee: when it was resolved not to do any thing in this matter, and the subject was dismissed.

Presbyterial Reports were submitted and read from the Presbyteries of Harmony, Charleston Union, Georgia and Hopewell; all of which were accepted.

The Rev. Charles L. R. Boyd, reported as a Member of the Harmony Presbytery being present, took his seat, as a Member of the Synod.

On motion Resolved, That it be the order of the day for this Afternoon, when the Synod meet, to elect Members of the Board of Directors of the Seminary to fill the places of those whose term of service expires at the present meeting.

The Committee appointed to examine the Minutes of the last General Assembly, reported—which Report was accepted, and the following record was ordered to be made on our Minutes:

That the General Assembly at their last meeting formed a new Synod, denominated the Synod of Mississippi and South Alabama, in doing which, two Presbyteries, viz. South Alabama and Tombeckbee, were detached from this Synod.

The Committee appointed on the subject of Mr. Boies' communication, reported the following resolutions which being read and considered, were unanimously adopted, viz:

Res. 1. That Synod regard with the deepest interest, and with gratitude to God, the resolution adopted by the American Bible Society at its last Anniversary, to supply every family in the United States, destitute of the Holy Scriptures, and willing to receive them, with a copy of the same within two years.

Res. 2. That Synod view with the liveliest satisfaction, the efforts already made to carry the above resolution into effect, and do pledge themselves in reliance on God, and with the co-operation of those friendly to the object, that all the families within our bounds, destitute of the Bible and willing to receive it, shall be supplied previous to the 1st May, 1831.

Mr. Richard Hooker, an Agent from the American Sunday School Union, was introduced to the Synod by Dr. Palmer. Mr. Hooker made some remarks in reference to the importance, and present state of that Institution, and urged the importance of the members of this Body patronizing said Institution.

Dr. Palmer and Mr. Wilson were appointed a Committee to draft a minute on this subject.

The Synod then had a recess until half-past 3 o'clock.
