Douglas, Elder, from Presbytery of Harmony, who, having assigned satisfactory reasons for their delay, took their seats as members of this Body.

Presbyterial Reports were called for. The Presbytery of Charleston Union handed in their Report; which was read and accepted, and from which it appears that they have, during the year, ordained Edward T. Buist and John F. Lanneau. Snowden from the Presbytery of East Hanover; Alanson Benedict from the Association of East Fairfield Connecticut; J. C. Stiles and Dennis M. Winston from the Presbytery of Hopewell. That they received under their care a Church recently organized at Tallahassee, and one organized at Mandorin, Florida. That they dissolved the pastoral relation between C. C. They moreover report, that on 20th of Nov. last, they dismissed the Rev. H. F. Blodgett, to join the Presbytery of Charleston Union; and received the Rev. Benjamin Burroughs from the Presbytery of

New-York. They further Report that the Rev. Alanson Benedict departed this life on October last, at Danville, Virginia.

Aaron Williams and the Congregation of Bullocks Creek; and that since their last Report, they have organized a new church, by the name of Mount Pleasant, consisting of thirty-three members.

The Presbytery of South-Carolina presented their Report, which was read and accepted, and from which it appears, that since their last Report, they have dissolved the pastoral relation between Rev. Michael Dickson and the Congregation of Nazareth; and dismissed the said Dickson, to connect himself with the Presbytery of Hopewell, Ga. That they have received from the Presbytery of Hopewell, the Rev. John Boggs. That about the last of December last; the Rev. Hopping.— They report further, that they have received during the year, four young men as candidates for the Gospel Ministry; and that on 1st of December, John W. Reid, a Licentiate, was ordained as an Evangelist; and that on the day previous, they received under their care, Mr. James George, as a candidate for the ministry.

On motion, the Narratives of the respective Presbyteries were committed to the Committee on the Narrative of the state of Religion. The Narrative of the Presbytery of Georgia was however read, and that part of it, which related to the instruction of the colored population, was referred to a committee to prepare a minute respecting it, to be placed upon our records—This Committee consists of Dr. Waddel, Messrs. S. S. Davis, C. C. Jones, Dr. Palmer, Robert Cunningham, Samuel Clark, S. J. Cassels, James English, and J. C. Jeter.

In accordance with the resolution adopted by the Synod at the last meeting, to devote two hours to religious exercises; and the time appointed having arrived, Synod had a recess, to meet at the close of these exercises.

After having spent the allotted time in reading the Scriptures, singing, prayer, and exhortation, Synod again met, when the Rev. Mr. Plumer, on invitation, presented his views respecting such an organization for the promotion of Foreign Missions as the spirit of the age called for, and as in his judgment was suited to the condition of our Southern Churches. Mr. P. occupied the house until 2 o'clock, when a recess of an hour was moved and carried.

Saturday, 7th Dec. 9 o'clock.

Synod met according to adjournment. Constituted with prayer. Members present as on yesterday.

The Committee to whom were referred the statements made by the Rev. Mr. Woodbridge on the subject of the Foreign distribution of Tracts, submitted their Report, which was accepted and adopted, and is as follows :

The American Tract Society having adopted adopted a resolution to appropriate $20,000 for the distribution of Tracts in Foreign and Pagan lands during the present year, Therefore resolved, That it be recommended to the Churches within the bounds o^r this Synod to take a public collection or subscription on or near to the 1st Monday of January, 1834, to aid the American Tract Society in carrying into effect the said resolution—That it be recommended also to the Churches to render to the Rev. Mr. Woodbridge their co-operation in the accomplishment of this object.

That the churches may be the better prepared to act upon the subject, the Committee would suggest that Mr. Woodbridge be authorised to issue to the churches within the bounds of this Synod, (upon his own responsibility) a printed Circular that shall embody the above resolution, with such statements, illustrative of the importance of the Foreign distribution of Tracts, as he may select.

The Board of Directors of the Theological Seminary presented their Report, which was considered, accepted and adopted.*

* [See Appendix No. 1.]

OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors of the Theological Seminary, owing to circumstances which they could not control, have heretofore been under the necessity of presenting as their Reports to Synod, nothing more than the minutes of their proceedings. These, though full and explicit as minutes usually are, have failed to afford an adequate impression of the history, the condition, and the prospects of the Institution which has been confided to their care. To remedy this defect, the Board have thought it expedient to begin with the origin of the Seminary, and take a hasty survey of the proceedings of past years, that the Synod may see at one view what progress has been made, and what are the grounds of encouragement for future exertions.

Long before any effort was made to establish a Theological Seminary within our bounds, such an enterprise was often made the subject of free conversation at the meetings of our Ecclesiastical Judicatories; and in several instances resolutions were adopted, having a direct bearing upon the object. But to the Presbytery of South-Carolina belongs the honour of making the first decided and vigorous effort to carry this object into effect. They fixed upon a plan; engaged an Agent to solicit funds; and had made some progress towards the establishment of such an institution, when, at the meeting of Synod in 1824, they offered to commit the whole of what they had done into the hands of the Synod, with the single provision, that the location of the contemplated Seminary should be in Pendleton district. The Synod accepted the proposal under this limitation. But at that meeting nothing definite was done. In November, 1825, the Synod fixed upon a title for the contemplated institution, and called it "the Literary and Theological Seminary of the Synod," and adopted a Constitution having a reference to both these departments. At that meeting they also formed a Board, and appointed Committees of Trust, of Location, &c. and engaged a general Agent to obtain funds. At the meeting of Synod in November 1824, no further progress had been made towards the establishment of the institution, except that the Agent had succeeded in obtaining a subscription to a considerable amount. The subscriptions and collections at that time did not vary much from thirty thousand dollars. But when the Synod met in 1827, difficulties were found to have arisen in the management of the pecuniary affairs of the Seminary. What money had been collected was loaned out, and on such security too, as was not regarded sufficiently ample. And the whole plan, after having undergone a full investigation, was considered too complicated and unwieldy to be managed by the Synod. The Literary department was therefore abandoned, and donors to the institution were authorized to reclaim the amounts which they had respectively given—And subscribers were exonerated from their pledges, unless they chose to renew them. The result was, that some who had given money with a reference to the Literary department, availed themselves of the opportunity for reclaiming it, and some subscribers also withdrew their pledges. Yet, the sums thus withdrawn, were more than counterbalanced by additional subscriptions from those who favored the change.

In November 1825, the Synod appointed the present Professor of Ecclesiastical History, Professor of Christian Theology, with liberty to remain at his residence, in Lexington, Ga. during the year.

The Presbytery of South-Carolina in 1829, at the request of the Synod generously released this body from their pledge to locate the institution in Pendleton district. The Board then felt at liberty to compare the advantages offered by different places; and by an unexpected unanimity, Columbia was then fixed upon as the permanent site of the institution. The Professor in the department of Christian Theology was, with his consent, transferred to the department of Ecclesiastical History, and the Rev. Dr. Waddel was chosen Professor of Christian Theology. But this appointment he subsequently declined. Early in 1830, the Professor of Ecclesiastical History, Dr. Goulding, removed to Columbia, and though he gave instructions to several young men who had the Ministry in view, yet no class was formed until the meeting of Synod in 1830. At that meeting, the present Professor of Biblical Literature, Mr. Howe, was appointed a teacher in the institution, and the year following, he was elected Professor. Meanwhile, Col. Abraham Blanding, voluntarily engaged, with the assistance of others, to purchase a lot and buildings for the Seminary. This he effected in a few months, and presented to the Board free of any expense, the buildings and lot which the Seminary now occupies. These buildings, and this lot, were procured at an expense of $14,000, and for this generous donation, the Board feel under deep and lasting obligations.

Such is a brief sketch of the origin of this institution, and of its history, until it came into effective operation.

The attention of the Synod will now be called to its present condition.

And 1st. The Professors.—At present, there are but two Professors in the Seminary, the Rev. Thos. Goulding, D. D. Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Church Government; and the Rev. George Howe, Professor of Biblical Literature. Rev. Dr. McDowell, who was appointed last year to the Professorship of Christian Theology, having declined his appointment, the duties of that department have been divided for the year now closed, between the two other Professors. As considerable solicitude was manifested by the Professors and Students, for Dr. Porter, President of the Theological Seminary at Andover, who was in this State last winter and spring, to deliver in the Seminary, a course of Lectures on Sacred Rhetoric, the Executive Committee accordingly tendered to him a respectful invitation to deliver the aforesaid course of Lectures, which he did, to the great benefit and satisfaction of the Professors and Students.

2. Students.—By the Report of the Professors, the class which has just completed their course, consisted of five members, Messrs. J. M. W. Adams, F. B.

Goulding, Jas. L. Merrick, Wm. Moultrie Reid and Wm. Yates. Two others were regularly connected with the class, one of whom left last year, and the other, the Rev, J. L. Wilson, has recently been ordained, and has gone on a Foreign Mission under the direction of the American Board.

The Senior Class consists of six members, viz. Messrs. Axson, Egerton, Frazer, Legare, Peden and Petrie.

The Middle Class consists of nine members, viz. Messrs. Banks, Cassels, Douglas, Gray, Hooker, Mallard, Magruder, Montgomery and Peltor. And another class entitled the Junior, will doubtless be formed at, or before the commencement of another term.

The examination of the Students before the Board, has been highly creditable both to them and to their instructors. And the Board have been much gratified in receiving the most unqualified testimonials that the Students in the Seminary have uniformly manifested a becoming Christian deportment. There have been several other Students who have availed themselves of some of the advantages of the Seminary, but who were not regularly connected with the institution.

3. The Charter.—The Board have secured from the Legislature of this State, an act of incorporation, under which they can hold property to the amount of two hundred thousand dollars for twenty-one years. And if this privilege be used in a proper manner, it will doubtless be extended from period to period, covering also whatever sums may be necessary for the prosperity of the Institution.

4. Funds.—The Funds of the Seminary consist

1. Of Buildings and Lots presented thro' the agency of Col. Blanding,	$14,000 00.
2. House and Lot purchased by the Board	1,000 00.
3. The Nephew Scholarship,	2,500 00.
4. Subscriptions and investments in Georgia towards the Georgia Professorship,	22,609 00.
5. Subscriptions and investments in South Carolina, including the Scholarship of the Congregational and Presbyterian Female Education Society,	10,882 00.

6. Subscriptions and collections by the agency of the Rev. Mr. Davis, in the Northern States,

15,584 75

Total, $66,575 75

Some allowance should be made for subscriptions, payable as these are, in from three to five annual instalments; but it is believed that they are as good, if not better, than subscriptions usually are to such institutions. There cannot however, be any reasonable doubt but that with due exertions, ample provisions may be speedily made for completing the endowment of the three Professorships already undertaken.

5. The Library.—The Library of the Seminary consists of about 1900 volumes, most of which have been freely given by the friends of the Institution. Among these are many rare and valuable works. Besides these a member of the Board has collected about fifty volumes, which he intends sending on his return from Synod.

6. The Constitution.—The Board for two or three years past, have committed and recommitted to a committee the duty of preparing a Constitution to be submitted for their consideration and approval. This has, at last, been effected, and by a resolution of the Board, the following Constitution has been recommended to the Synod for their adoption.*

For the encouragement of the Synod to persevere in this noble enterprize, let every one of its members duly consider the progress which has already been made. We have now a Theological Institution which “has a local habitation and a name.” We have buildings and lands, and investments, and subscriptions, amounting to between sixty and seventy thousand dollars. We have a charter by which this property can be held—We have a valuable library. There are besides two Professors, in which the Synod have reason to confide, who have been preparing twenty students to go forth into all the world as the Heralds of the everlasting Gospel, under the great commission of the Kings of Kings. Six or seven have already gone, or are ready to go, Jehovah being their shield and their buckler, wherever in this wide world, HE, in his holy providence, may send them. And what is more, this Institution is dear to the hearts of our Ministers, and Elders, and Churches; and they have strength enough under God, to sustain it. It will arise—It will prosper. And the spectacle, we venture to predict, will be exhibited here at no distant day, of an Institution with a hundred students, and ample accommodations for them all—and ample means of Instruction. This will be, if—if we, as a Synod and as individuals, are disposed to do our duty—to do it now—and to do it with a fixed purpose, and with unshaken confidence in the promises and providence of God.

In connexion with the prospects before us, the Board have some estimates to make of what is necessary to be done in order to sustain the Institution, and to render it prosperous.

To meet the engagements for this year, including $535 for the payment of the lot purchased by the Board, the balance on Professor's salaries, repairs, expences and salary of agent, &c. it will require not much short of $2500. To meet the expenses of the ensuing year, provided another professor should be elected, it will require an appropriation of about $5000. To the Synod it is known that but a small proportion of our funds are as yet invested in available stock—That the subscriptions are to be paid in instalments—and that it will require four or five years to complete the collections, and render them available. Meanwhile what is to be done? What but to appeal to our churches, and hold up this object before them, and ask them what they are willing to give to sustain this school of the Prophets. Spread it before the churches in its true light, and the silver and the gold will be forthcoming. God will open the hearts of his people, as he did of old, when they brought their offerings for the building of the Tabernacle in the wilderness.

In this Synod, there are about one hundred Ministers, and one hundred and fifty churches. Fifty dol-bars each for the Ministers, or thirty three and 1-3 dollars from each of the churches, would be adequate of itself to defray the current annual expences, according to the foregoing estimate. And cannot this be done, and much more, if necessary? If an appeal were now made to the Synod, we have no doubt that pledges to the full amount would be given without a moment's hesitation.

The Board further Report, that the period for which the following individuals were elected, expires with the present meeting of Synod, viz:—Ministers, H. S. Pratt, R. W. James, J. B. Davis, S. K. Talmage, R. Means and M. Dickson. Laymen, G. T. Snowden, Joseph Cumming, David R. Evans and Robert Cunningham.

On motion Resolved, That so much of the Report of the Board of Directors of the Theological Seminary as relates to the election of Directors to supply the place of those whose term of service expires with this meeting, be now taken up; that nominations be called for to fill their place—and that the election be the order of the day for 10 o'clock on Monday. Nominations were accordingly made on calling the roll.

On motion Resolved, That it be the order of the day for 3 o'clock, this Afternoon, to consider the subject of Sabbath Schools.

The Committee on the Minutes of the General Assembly, reported the following resolutions which were considered and adopted:

1. Resolved, That the Synod cordially concur with the General Assembly in setting apart the 1st Monday in January, 1834, as a day of special prayer for the conversion of the world; and earnestly recommend to the Ministers and Churches, within their bounds, the devout observance of the day aforesaid.

2. Resolved, That this Synod perceive with great pleasure, in the Minutes of the General Assembly, reference to a contemplated effort to supply within a definite period, the accessible reading population of the earth with the Holy Scriptures; and that if the work shall be undertaken, we pledge our prayers,

A letter from Rev, G. W. Boggs, Missionary to Bombay, was read, and on motion, was referred to the Southern Board of Foreign Missions.

On motion, Resolved, That when Synod adjourn, it adjourn to meet in the Presbyterian Church, Augusta, (Ga.) on the first Thursday in December next, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures reported Overture No. 6, which was read and referred to a special Committee, consisting of Rev. Drs. Palmer, Leland and Waddel.

On motion, Resolved, That the thanks of this body be tendered to the inhabitants of Columbia, for the hospitality with which they have received the Synod; and that the session of the Presbyterian Church be requested to communicate the same to them in any form which they may select.

The Committee to whom Overture No. 5 was referred, which is as follows:—"Are members of the Church, who take offence at their Pastor, and abstain on this account from the word and ordinances in their own Church, are they on account of their thus abstaining, proper subjects of Church discipline? and is it expedient in this country, and in the present state of the Presbyterian Church, to deal with such members for their irregularity, provided nothing more scandalous be chargeable against them?" submitted the following Report, which was adopted, viz: "That the question is answered in our form of Church Government, chap. 9. section 6 and 7th; and that expediency ought not to prevent the exercise of discipline."

The Committee appointed to prepare a Pastoral Letter to the Churches under the care of this Synod, reported, That they have not, and probably will not, have time to perform the duty assigned them. Whereupon that Committee was discharged, and another Committee consisting of Dr. Leland, Mr. Smith and Mr. Gildersleeve, were appointed to draft the letter, and publish it without submitting it to Synod.

The Committee of Bills and Overtures, reported an Appeal in behalf of John B. Simpson and wife, from the decision of the South-Carolina Presbytery in 1824, by which decision the appellants had been excluded from the communion of the Presbyterian Church.

After reading the documents, and hearing statements from members of the Presbytery, all of whom were favorable to the restoration of the appellants to Church privileges, the appeal was sustained, and Mr. John B. Simpson and wife were restored to the communion of the Church.

The Committee to whom Overture No. 4 was referred, reported the following Resolution, viz :

Resolved, That the Presbytery of Hopewell be divided according to the Resolution of that Presbytery in April last ; and that the part of the Presbytery now called Hopewell, on the west side of the Ochmulgee River, including also the counties of Newton, Walton and Gwinnett, be denominated the Presbytery of Good Hope ; to meet in McDonough on the Thursday before the fourth Sabbath of March next, at 11 o'clock, A. M. ; to be opened by a Sermon by the Rev. Mr. Holt, or in case of his absence, by the senior member present, who is to preside until another Moderator be chosen. And whereas the Moderator of Hopewell Presbytery will, by this decision, be included in the Good Hope Presbytery, therefore Resolved, That the Rev. Mr. Talmage be appointed Moderator of Hopewell Presbytery, for its next stated sessions, or in case of his absence, the senior member present.

Synod, after imploring the Divine blessing, proceeded to the election of a Professor of Christian Theology in the Seminary of this Synod. Rev. Mr. Smith and Mr. N. A. Pratt, were appointed a Committee to receive and count the votes. This Committee having retired for a few minutes, returned, and reported, That Dr. Leland was elected to that office.

On motion, Resolved, That his salary be fixed at $1500 per annum.

The Rev. Samuel S. Davis and Mr. Dickson, were appointed a Committee to inform Dr. Leland of his election, and receive his answer.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Narrative of the state of Religion, reported. The Report having been read, On motion, Ordered, That it be adopted, and published with the minutes of this Synod ;

300 copies of which were ordered to be printed, and Messrs. Mitchell and Gildersleeve were appointed to superintend the publication of the same.

NARRATIVE.

There is always something peculiarly impressive and interesting in retrospective views, especially when those views open to the mind, fields where we have labored and wept, sown in tears and waited with expectation—fields on which vegetation has quickened under our hand, fruits have ripened, and the harvest has been gathered. Transfer this figure to the Church, to the trials of the faithful Minister, to the close and the harvest of his labors when he rests and recounts his victories, and how deeply, how triumphantly can we feel it. Such is the anniversary meeting of the servants of Christ—such our holy convocation now. While three of our beloved brethren, Rev. John McEwen, of Harmony Presbytery, and Rev. Alexander Kirkpatrick, of the Presbytery of South-Carolina, and Rev. A. Benedict, of the Presbytery of Georgia, have been called by death from their fields of labor to their rewards on high, we may experience a foretaste and earnest of their and our final joys in this sweet fellowship and communion here.

The Synod of South-Carolina and Georgia, in presenting its annual narrative of the state of religion, has few of those distinguished triumphs of grace to record, which gave such deep interest to its last Report. Yet, we still dwell with gratitude and adoring praise on the songs to which those new born voices were then attuned in the day of God's power, and we may still find a rich source of consolation and hope in the prospective views of the influence, strength and glory of our Church, furnished by the present state of religion among its members. The state of religion in the Church, more than any numerical force, presents the true standard of its prosperity and prospects. This, it is our present object briefly to present.

Its Internal order and Harmony.

We believe there is a firm attachment to the doctrines and discipline of our Church among its members, and that this attachment is more than formerly based on an intelligent understanding of those doctrines and that discipline. Some of our Clergy have not only taught and explained publicly these doctrines and that discipline, but have wisely placed our printed book, which embodies them, in the hands of their members, and thus contributed greatly to make them efficient, by making them intelligent, Christians. Next after the Bible, should be studied our Confession of Faith, which is but a summary of its doctrines; and our Book of Discipline, which is the constitutional form, by which our Church is embodied and governed. We commend this little volume to the careful perusal of all the members of our Church. Too much apathy and neglect prevail on this subject. The consequence is—our Church is not sufficiently intelligent on its own distinctive character, comparative privileges and excellence—its precious doctrines fail of their full effect to comfort, strengthen and sanctify, its order is deranged, and its discipline relaxed and enfeebled. The remedies are in our own hands, and the responsibilities rest with principal weight on the Ministers.

That harmony, which has heretofore distinguished our Zion, we are happy to say, is still preserved. Amid conflicts and trials of peculiar difficulty, it is certainly cause of gratitude and praise that the interests of the Church have continued to exert so paramount an influence over its members, and harmony within, and a spirit of love have been so generally maintained.

Revivals of Religion.

Although our Churches have been less revived during the last, than on the preceding year, we have not been without evidences that God is amongst us, and that He is able and mighty to save. These, we are bound to record to the glory of His grace. In Charleston Union Presbytery, protracted meetings have been blessed to the congregations of Willtown and Walterborough. In one of the congregations, several members of a female Bible Class have become hopeful subjects of grace, and Sabbath School instructions have been blessed in other instances. In Harmony Presbytery, there has been a general attention to the means of grace, and good order in most of the Churches, but with few revivals and a few additions to the communion. The annual report from Bethel Presbytery complains of a state of great coldness and declension in the life of religion, and a destitution of the preached word, yet several of their Churches have been blessed with seasons of revival, and considerable additions made to their members, particularly Bethesda, Bethel, Fishing Creek, Waxhaw, Catholic and Cane Creek. The South Carolina Presbytery, report, that in Laurens district, one new Church has been organized, consisting of 72 members, and 28 have been added to another Church. In Anderson district, some Churches exhibit promising appearances, and to others some additions have been made. In Abbeville, there has been good attention to preaching, and additions to several of the Churches. Georgia and Hopewell Presbyteries are blessed with a favorable state of religion in their Churches without any special revival. In Tallahassee, Florida, a new Church has been organized within the last year, and placed under the care of Georgia Presbytery. This Church has enjoyed an interesting revival of religion, and been greatly strengthened.

Foreign Missions.

The Monthly Concert of Prayer, although totally neglected by a few of our Churches, has been regularly observed by many. For Foreign Missions something has been done, but little, however, compared with what we owe to the subject. The attention excited to it by two of our brethren who recently left us to preach the gospel to the heathen, has been awakened anew the present year by another beloved brother, the Rev. J. Leighton Wilson, who has just finished his studies at our Theological Seminary, and is now on his way to carry the glad news of salvation to the heathen abroad. The creation of the Southern Board of Missions just completed by an act of this Synod, may be regarded as a physical organization competent to bring into action the energies of our Church. We look to God to breathe upon us the spirit of Missions, which is the spirit of life, and this strong portion of the Church will be brought out to the help of the Lord against the mighty. We trust and believe the next report of Synod will have something in this department to record of its character and efficient action.

Education Society.

The education of pious young men for the Gospel Ministry, a cause so intimately connected with the prosperity of our Theological Seminary, and the supply of our vacant Churches, has received some attention. But efforts on this subject have been without system, and much more limited than the cause demands. The Rev. S. S. Davis, has recently undertaken an agency for the South, to organize our whole Church by constituting each Presbytery auxiliary to the "Assembly's Board of Education," and thus to concentrate our energies on this subject. His office at Augusta, is at a central point, and under his efficient agency we may expect to find the resources of our Churches, and the hearts of our pious youth drawn effectually to a co-operation in the well laid plans of this institution.

Theological Seminary.

This child of our labours, prayers and hopes has attained, even in its infancy, a strength and character beyond its years. The first class, consisting of six members, has now finished its course, and these young men have already been presented with great acceptance to the Churches, as preachers of the Gospel. One of them has already gone to the heathen, and another has devoted himself to the same service. The standard of piety, and spirit of self-denial manifested by the present members of our Seminary, promise great usefulness in their personal labors to the Church, and are auspicious in their probable bearing on the future character of the institution. May the simplicity and economy of their habits of living, their application to study, their burning zeal for the salvation of souls, the Missionary spirit they breathe, be sustained in this Seminary, until the original commission to the Gospel Ministry shall be fully executed: "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." We again commend this school of the prophets to the prayers and liberal support of our Churches. Every stream that flows into it from the liberal hand of pecuniary bounty, will return upon our land in the broad river of life to refresh and to save our children.

Domestic Missionary Society.

This Society, the necessary coadjutor of our Education Society and Theological Seminary, in furnishing a complete Ministry to our Churches, has scarcely an existence but in name, and of course the cause has gained but very partial attention. The poor Churches are crying for help with a voice that draws tears wherever there is a heart to feel for the desolations of Zion. Our rich Churches, it is believed, are willing to help them, but the necessary agencies are absent. We look with hope and expectation to the execution of the plan laid in the "Assembly's Board of Missions" to bring relief to our famishing Churches, and we will welcome the efforts of their Secretary to bring our Church into the contemplated organization, and our resources to bear on this most important and affecting object of Christian benevolence.

Bible Cause.

This noble cause, which contemplates the supply of the entire reading population of the world with the word of life, has shared in the contributions of many of our Churches. It must dwell with undying interest on the hearts of all who have felt the word of this salvation "calling them out of darkness into marvelous light, and from the power of sin and satan unto God." Those who have truly known its "power to save," can never be satisfied while it is withheld from any portion of our dying world.

Tract Cause.

Little is said on this subject in our Presbyterial reports. It is known, however, to have excited a degree of attention and aid in almost every section of our church. The utility of this mode of instruction has been fully tested and acknowledged. An Agent of the American Tract Society, the Rev. Mr. Woodbridge, has been before this Synod, and has commended his object to the favorable attention and co-operation of our churches. We trust his efforts will be crowned with success, and that we shall not only have the opportunity to do good to ourselves, but be found to bear an honorable part in the great work now undertaken for foreign distribution.

Sunday Schools.

These are subjects of special report from the Charleston Union, Bethel, Harmony, and South Carolina Presbyteries. They have in general received some attention, and in many Churches, have been made an object of special regard. Many of our Churches have generally furnished Teachers, Books, and all the necessary means of conducting schools in neighborhoods contiguous to themselves, and in this way many lay-members of our churches have become strong and efficient auxiliaries to the ministry, and contributed greatly, and directly to the salvation of souls. The "effort for the South" is cordially responded to, and we only need perseverance commensurate with our promptness to engage in the enterprise to bring forward a generation to follow us, who shall be enlightened in the truth, and zealous of God's praise.

Temperance Cause.

This cause is reported from the Charleston Union, South Carolina, and Harmony Presbyteries as decidedly gaining ground. We have evidence that it rests with increasing weight on the consciences of Christians, and in its extended and extending, its salutary and saving influence, excites the admiration of the world at large, and the general approbation of good men. It has our cordial good wishes. We believe it is destined to advance, until total abstinence shall be the received doctrine, not only of every member of every church, but of every good citizen—and Alcohol, in all its modifications, shall be labelled and carefully confined, in vials to the medicine chest of every family, subjected to the same restricted use with opium, calomel or arsenic.

Religious Instruction of our Coloured Population.

This Synod continue to feel the same responsibilities and desires on this subject which they have repeatedly expressed. They rejoice to find that increasing attention is paid to it on the part of many who are largely interested as owners in this class of our population, and that there is an increasing disposition, on their part to receive and invite instruction for these heathen in our own land. Under the restrictions and limitations of the laws, we hope all ministers will delight to impart to them the blessings of the Gospel and that Christian Masters will feel that in these possessions, they have not only the responsibilities of property—but that “souls are their charge.”

Among the favorable indications in the State of religion, we should do injustice to our feelings, and be truly ungrateful should we neglect to record the divine goodness manifested to the Synod at its present meeting. It has been truly a season of reviving, of quickening and Christian communion. Under its influence we trust and believe our Churches will receive a new impulse through their ministers in every benevolent and holy enterprise. Can we forget the goodness and the grace of God now manifested? We have met as brethren. We have felt the warm hand of friendship, expressing the fellowship of more than a brothers love. Envy and jealousy have been banished—strife has ceased, ere it was matured—dissensions have not been known—the Lord has been with us, and “the mountains have flowed down at his presence.” While “there be many that say, who will show us any good,” taught by a happy experience, may our prayers ever be—“Lord, lift thou upon us the light of thy countenance.”

OUR CHURCH, then, in all our prospective views of its destinies, furnishes ground for confident expectation of an onward and upward course. Never have we possessed ground so elevated, and a foundation so broad as at the present moment. With the prayer, the union, the brotherly love, the Christian feeling and enterprize by which this meeting has been characterized, we may well be satisfied to do our own work, and let our enemies alone, except to pity and to pray for them."

The Committee appointed to notify the Rev. Dr. Leland of his election as a Professor in the Theological Seminary, and receive his answer, reported, That they had had an interview with Dr. Leland, that he was then present, and would answer in person—Whereupon, Dr. Leland arose, and said in effect, that he felt incompetent to the task; but as his brethren had manifested a confidence in him which he had not at all anticipated, he felt truly grateful for this expression of their favor, and asked the indulgence of the Synod for a few days, when he would communicate to the Board his decision.

The Rev. S. S. Davis, who has been appointed permanent Agent of the General Assembly's Board of Education for the State of South-Carolina and Georgia, made a brief statement of the operations and claims of the Assembly's Board—Whereupon, it was Resolved, That this Synod rejoice in the extended and increased operations of the Assembly's Board of Education.

“ The Executive Committee present as the Report of their proceedings during the past year, that at a meeting held in the Depository, Charleston, on the 19th December, 1832, (the members being all present) a communication was laid before the Committee from the Rev. Dr. McDowell, Professor elect in the Theological Seminary of the Synod, in which he declined accepting the appointment. This communication was, on motion, received and ordered to be kept on the files of the Committee.

“ The Executive Committee again met on the 11th February, 1833, in the Depository, Charleston, when all the members were present with the exception of the President, Dr. Palmer. The Rev. S. S. Davis, a member of the Board, but not of the Committee, being present, was invited to participate in the deliberation of the Committee.

“ The object of the meeting was, to provide for the wants of the Seminary, both in respect to instruction and funds. As the professor elect had declined accepting his appointment, it seemed important to the Committee, that provision should be made immediately, to supply as far as possible the place which it was designed that he should fill as Professor and General Agent.

“ Mr. Davis informed the Committee, that he had recently accepted the appointment of permanent Agent of the General Assembly's Board of Education for the State of South-Carolina and Georgia. But from a conviction of the important instrumentality of the Theological Seminary of the Synod, to the accomplishment of those objects in this section of the Church, which the Assembly's Board of Education have in view, and from a knowledge of the present embarrassed state of the funds of the Seminary, he had reserved the right of acting as Agent for the Seminary, should his services be called for by the Board or Executive Committee.

“ Whereupon it was resolved by the Committee, that Mr. Davis be appointed special Agent of the Theological Seminary, and that he be permitted to exercise his agency at discretion until the next meeting of the Board, and that his compensation be fixed at the rate of $500 a year.

“ The Committee having understood that the Rev. Dr. Porter, President of the Theological Seminary of Andover, was in the State, and that he would probably continue in the South for some time, It was Resolved, 1st. That he be requested, if consistent with his health and other engagements, to deliver a course of Lectures on Sacred Rhetoric to the Students of the Theological Seminary—And that a copy of this Resolution be sent to the Professors at Columbia, and that they be requested to open the way for carrying it into effect.

“ Resolved 2dly, That the Committee pledge themselves to defray the expenses of Dr. Porter in going to Columbia, and while there, and to furnish whatever further compensation may be deemed proper.

From which it appears that the Treasurer's Account is found to be correct, leaving a balance in his hands of $2 and 6 cents, as stated in the account. They also find that there has been placed to the credit of the general fund, $60 and 19 cents, which should have been credited to the Charleston Union Presbytery.

Mr. Davis informed the Board, that he had authorized the money on the Subscriptions in the Northern States, to be deposited to his credit in the Merchants' Bank, New-York.

Whereupon Resolved, That Mr. Davis be directed to draw the funds which are, or which may be deposited to his credit on account of the Theological Seminary, and transmit the same to the investing Committee in Charleston.

Rev. Mr. White presented a Report of his Agency, in which he states that he has obtained no new subscription to the sum of $5715, reported last year,—that of the several instalments on this subscription, he has received $410, and transmitted the same to the investing Committee—that this sum, added to that of $2,371 97 cents, previously collected, amounts to $2,780 97 cents, belonging to the permanent fund of the Charleston Union Professorship. This Report was received, read and accepted.

The Building Committee presented their Report, in which they specified certain alterations and repairs as necessary for the security of the buildings, and the productiveness of the Lot.

Rev. E. White was re-appointed Agent in the Charleston Union Presbytery. Rev. S. S. Davis was re-appointed Agent for completing the Georgia Professorship, and Rev. Horace S. Pratt was appointed Agent to collect the Subscriptions in the Northern States, and to obtain additional funds and subscriptions at his own discretion.

The Constitution, as reported by the Committee, was then taken up, and after having been read and discussed article by article, and undergone sundry amendments, was approved.

It was then Resolved, That the Constitution as amended, be recommended to the Synod for their adoption.

The Board then had a recess to meet at the call of the President.

Saturday Morning, 9 o'clock.

Saturday Evening, 7 o'clock.

The Board met at the call of the President. Present as above.

The President stated to the Board, that the Constitution which was approved last evening, and was ordered to be recommended to the Synod for their adoption, had been adopted by that body, and was, therefore, our future rule of action.

The Committee appointed to report on the subject of compensation for the services and expenses of the Agent, presented their Report, which was adopted, and is as follows :

Resolved 1st, That this Board highly appreciate the unwearied and self-sacrificing labors of their Agent in the collection of funds for the establishment of Professorships in the Theological Seminary.

Resolved 2d, That the Agent be remunerated for all his expenses, according to the estimate given in his report, viz. $800.

Dearing, Esq's. were requested by him to act as receiving Agents of the Subscriptions. The Committee further recommended, that these papers be committed to Mr. Davis, the present Agent appointed for the State of Georgia.

This Report was read and adopted.

On motion, Resolved, That the Board proceed to the appointment of two investing Committees, one for the State of South-Carolina, and the other for the State of Georgia.

It was stated by the Rev. S. S. Davis, that in the month of March last, he transmitted to Mr. Law, the Treasurer, $150, which had been collected in the State of Georgia, and which was placed by our Treasurer to the credit of the Contingent fund. Whereupon it was Resolved, That as Mr. Davis is to be continued as an Agent for the State of Georgia, he be authorized to retain out of any monies which he may there collect for the Contingent fund, the sum of $150, to replace the amount thus taken from the permanent fund for that State.

Resolved, That our Treasurer be instructed to credit all monies hereafter received from the Nephew Scholarship, to that particular account, and that the Professors be authorized to appropriate that fund to the support of any necessitous student or students which they may consider deserving, provided that those who have the direction of said scholarship, should not select or recommend any student to be supported out of that fund.

The Committee on the Library presented their Report, which was recommitted to the same Committee, with instructions to amend it, and report again.

After a free conversation upon the state of the Seminary, it was resolved, That it is expedient for the Board at this meeting, to recommend to the Synod to elect a Professor of Christian Theology.

The Committee on the Professor's Report, recommended that an alphabetical list of the Students of the Seminary be made out, and entered upon the minutes.

Adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

SOUTHERN BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

4. Resolved, That it is expedient to adopt an organization, for the purpose of securing the object contemplated in the last resolution, and also of bringing the subject of Foreign Missions, directly and forcibly to bear upon the minds, and hearts, and Christian enterprize of our people, paying a due regard to their location, circumstances, and ecclesiastical habits.

2. Honorary Members, who shall become such by paying into the Treasury at one time, if clergyman, fifty dollars, if other persons one hundred dollars, and shall have the right of attending all the meetings and assisting in all the deliberations of the Board.

3. Corresponding Members, consisting of all members and officers of the A. B. C. F. M. and of the members of the several Synods united in constituting this Board. This Board may also, if at any time it shall be thought proper, elect Corresponding Members, residing in the United States, or elsewhere. It shall be the privilege of this class of members also, to attend the meetings and participate in the deliberations of the board, and their duty to communicate from time to time any information, which may promise usefulness to the Board. Certificates of membership shall be given—to Delegated Members, attested by the clerk of the Synod appointing them—to Honorary Members, by the Treasurer of the Board, and by the Secretary, of those persons who shall be at any time elected Corresponding Members.

ART. IV. The officers of the Board shall be, a President, and one Vice-President from each of the Synods, or States co-operating, an Executive Committee of Five, who need not be members of the Board, a Secretary, a Treasurer, two Auditors, and such other officers as shall from time to time be found necessary; all of whom shall be chosen by the Board annually by ballot, and shall continue in office until successors are appointed.

It shall be the duty of the President, and in his absence, of the oldest Vice-President, and, in the absence of the President and Vice Presidents, of the oldest member present, to preside at all meetings of the Board, and to perform such other acts as shall, at any time, be assigned him by the Board.

The Executive Committee shall have the charge and management of the various interests and operations of the Board; shall take all proper measures to create and cherish the missionary spirit, within the bounds of the Synods united in the organization; to bring forward suitable Missionaries, and ascertain their individual qualifications; to bring all the Churches to contribute regularly and liberally to the great cause of Missions; to direct and sustain the Secretary and Treasurer in the performance of all their duties; to appoint such other agents as may be needful in the prosecution of the work given them in charge; and to report to each of the Synods creating the Board, at its regular annual meeting, a full account of their proceedings. They shall meet at least once in each month, and as much oftener as the business committed to them may require. Three members shall constitute a quorum at any Regular Meeting. They shall appoint a Chairman and Clerk, and keep an accurate and full record of their proceedings, and may adopt for themselves any by-laws not inconsistent with this Constitution, or the by-laws of the Board.

The Secretary shall devote himself to the business of the Board, from which he shall receive a competent support, to be fixed by the Executive Committee. He shall record all the proceedings of the Board—shall, unless the Executive Committee otherwise direct, prepare the annual report—shall conduct or superintend the correspondence of the Board, and of the Executive Committee, and shall act as General Agent within the limits of the Board, for the general, and permanent, and vigorous growth of the purposes of this organization. The Secretary may also be the Agent of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions within the limits of this Board.

The Treasurer shall take charge of all the monies paid into the Treasury of the Board, and give receipts therefor, and keep safely all the funds, notes, bonds, and other evidences of property, paying out monies only by order of the Executive Committee, taking proper vouchers for all sums so paid out, and keeping a fair and accurate account of all receipts and expenditures. He shall make a full and accurate Report to the Board at each annual meeting, properly audited, of the receipts and disbursements during the year, and make a monthly exhibit of the state of the funds to the Executive Committee, and whenever required by the Committee, exhibit his books, accounts, vouchers, and evidences of property. He shall be required by the Committee to give bond for the faithful execution of his trust, and may receive a suitable compensation to be fixed by the Committee. The Auditors shall examine the books and vouchers of the Treasurer thoroughly and particularly, at least once a year; if they shall find his accounts correctly kept, and accurately cast, and the payments well vouched, the balances satisfactorily accounted for, and the evidences of property duly exhibited, they shall give a certificate accordingly, which certificate they shall enter at large on the Treasurer's books, and shall cause a duplicate to be sent to the Board, with the Treasurer's annual Report.

ART. V. There shall be maintained, as far as possible, the most perfect harmony and co-operation between this Board and the American Board of Com missioners for Foreign Missions, in the prosecution of the great work in which both Boards are engaged. To this end the Officers of this Board will avail themselves as far as may be practicable and mutually agreeable, of the assistance of the Officers of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and of its publications in exciting the Missionary spirit, and of bringing forward Missionaries. The Missionaries raised up, and licensed, and ordained, and the helpers in the direct work of Foreign Missions, brought forward within the limits of this Board, shall in all ordinary cases be commissioned as Foreign Missionaries, and assigned to their fields of labour, and be directed in their work by the Prudential Committee of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and the funds of this Board, after defraying the necessary expenses of its own operations, shall ordinarily be paid over to the Prudential Committee, to be by them applied in the prosecution of the work entrusted to their management. The funds may, if the Executive Committee shall see fit, be appropriated to any one or more of the Missions established by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, in which case particular accounts will be expected by the Executive Committee of the state and progress of those Missions, at least once in each year, and the Missionaries at those stations will be expected to correspond with the Secretary of this Board. If at any time it shall be found expedient, this Board may after full conference with the Prudential Committee of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, establish a Mission or Missions to be under the exclusive management of this Board, without such a proceeding being regarded as interfering with the harmony and union existing between the two bodies.

ART. VI. The annual meeting of this Board shall be held at the time and place of the annual meetings of the several Synods co-operating—beginning with the Synod of South Carolina and Georgia, coinciding the second year, with the meeting of the Synod of Tennessee, and so on in regard to these Synods, or any other that may hereafter be formed within their present limits, and concur in this organization; provided always that this Synod shall be entitled to two annual meetings, one in each State, during a period affording but one to any other Synod.

At the annual meeting the reports of the Executive Committee, and of the Treasurer and Auditors, shall be made, officers shall be chosen for the year, and the necessary business transacted, and such exercises had in connection with the meeting, as shall seem best adapted to contribute effectually to the promotion of the objects of the organization.

At the meeting of the other Synod or Synods, at which the annual meeting of the Board will not occur in any year, the Secretary shall attend and present the Report previously offered, or soon to be offered, at the annual meeting of the Board, and have such exercises as are usually connected with the annual meeting for the promotion of the spirit and objects of this organization. Special meetings of the Board, when necessary may be called, and the time and place of the meeting fixed by the Executive Committee. At all meetings of the Board, nine members shall constitute a quorum.

ART. VII. Any part of this Constitution, not touching the relations of this Board to the A. B. C. F. M. may be altered by the Board at every annual meeting by a vote of two thirds of the members present. Other alterations shall be made by a vote of two thirds of the members composing a session of each of the Synods, entering into this plan.

7. Resolved. That any changes made by the Synod of Tennessee in the foregoing Constitution, which shall not affect the vital and essential nature of our relations, and which shall not be objected to by the members of the Board, delegated by this Synod, may become a part of this Constitution.

8. Resolved, That the Stated Clerk of this Synod be instructed, to furnish an attested copy of their proceedings, to the Synod of Tennessee, and that that body be affectionately invited to co-operate with this Synod in the organization herein contemplated.

9. Resolved, That the Board be requested to appoint a delegation to bring this subject, on behalf of this body, before the Synod of Tennessee at its next regular meeting.

10. Resolved, That the organization herein contemplated shall go into immediate operation, and that for this purpose, the first meeting of the Southern Board of Foreign Missions, be held in Columbia, S. C. on Monday, the 9th inst. for the purpose of choosing officers and commencing operations.

11. Resolved, That said meeting be opened by a sermon to be preached by the Rev. William S. Plumer.

12. Resolved, That the Synod most earnestly commend the subject of Foreign Missions to the attention of the Churches, and that Rev. Dr. Leland, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Gildersleeve, be a Committee to draft a pastoral letter on the great subject to be sent down to each of our Churches.

13. Resolved, That the present state of the world, and the exigencies of the Missionary cause, calling for competent Missionaries, do call upon the members of the Synod, to take into consideration the question of their own personal duty in reference to this subject, and also to direct special attention to the bringing forward of suitable men for this great and good work.

14. Resolved, That the Synod earnestly recommend to all our Churches the observance of the first Monday of January next, as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer, for the conversion of the world, in conformity with the recommendation of the last General Assembly.

15. Resolved, That nothing herein contained, shall be so construed, by any person, church or Presbytery, as to interfere in the least, with any arrangement that has been made, or shall be made with any other Foreign Missionary Society now in existence.

16. Resolved, That nothing herein contained shall be expressive of any other than feelings of friendship and approbation of the objects of the Western Missionary Society, and that if any person, Church, or Presbytery, within our bounds, shall prefer a direct connexion with that Society, this Synod will heartily concur in such arrangement.

17. Resolved, That this Synod acknowledge with gratitude the goodness of God in bringing before them the great subject of Foreign Missions, and in directing them to a unanimous and blessed result.

PASTORAL LETTER

IN REFERENCE

To the Southern Board of Foreign Missions.

We have the privilege and pleasure of announcing to you the formation of a Southern Board of Foreign Missions. This event, so long and ardently desired, so well adapted to unite the hearts, and elicit the energies and treasures of all who love the Missionary cause in its vigorous prosecution, must be hailed with devout gratitude to the Great Head of the Church, as a special token of His favour to our Southern Zion.

You are well aware of the embarrassments which have impeded our endeavours to engage efficiently in the glorious work of evangelizing the world, arising from the distance of the centre of action, and the want of a medium of direct co-operation. We have long mourned that the treasures of our Churches have been so sparingly bestowed, and their moral power so feebly exerted in this blessed enterprize of benevolence; and it has been painfully evident, that this apparent apathy was owing to the fact that no separate organization existed among ourselves.

But while it has long been perceived that a Southern Board of Foreign Missions was greatly needed, to unite our Churches in a zealous, active engagement in the mighty work; yet such were the difficulties and discouragements which seemed to oppose such an institution, that its warmest advocates cherished but slender hopes of its successful establishment. It is therefore with livelier emotions of thankfulness, that we record the special intervention of a gracious Providence, in the suggestion and harmonious adoption of a system of separate organization, for our section of country, which obviates the difficulties and objections that were apprehended, and opens in our own borders, a wide and inviting entrance to that field of labour, which is the world.

As it has thus pleased the Father of Mercies to remove the lamented impediments which have so long hindered us from engaging unitedly and vigorously in this great work ; and to lead us to adopt a system of operation, so promising and unobjectionable, we affectionately invite you, dear brethren, to engage with united hearts, in the proposed measures, which will secure to us all the inestimable privilege of being actively employed in sending the Gospel to all nations ; and which will also entitle us to those peculiar blessings which always enrich those Churches, whose labours and offerings are freely devoted to the perishing heathen.

By examining the Constitution of our new Board of Foreign Missions—a copy of which accompanies this letter—you will readily perceive, that it is an institution entirely our own—that our Synod possesses an entire and uncontrolled management of its interests and concerns—and that it has no farther connexion with the American Board, than is necessary to secure all the advantages desirable from its assistance and co-operation. In those departments of Missionary effort, where separate action will be most efficient, such as the raising and management of funds—the training of Missionaries and assigning their fields of labour—our Board is entirely independent. And only in those respects, where a united action will be manifestly advantageous—indeed indispensable, will it be associated with the venerable institution already mentioned.

And now permit us, dear brethren, in the name and by direction of our Synod, respectfully and earnestly to entreat your attention to some considerations, designed to engage your prayers, labours and contributions, in carrying forward this plan of mercy to a glorious accomplishment.

1. We affectionately remind you of your solemn, inviolable obligations as Christians, to be actively engaged in sending the Gospel to all your fellow-men. The command of the ascending Redeemer, who shed his blood to save us, enjoins this great duty upon every one of his disciples. The enjoyment of the blessings purchased by the blood of the Lamb, is ever accompanied with a sacred obligation to make known to the ignorant and perishing, the glad tidings of salvation.

The spirit of the Gospel is essentially a Missionary spirit; inspiring all under its influence with spontaneous, irrepressible desires, that all men may believe and be saved.

The example of Him who came from heaven to save the lost and the guilty, and gave his life a ransom for strangers and enemies, urges resistless claims upon all who bear his name and love his cause, to diffuse as widely as possible, the blessings purchased by his blood.

In fine, we are all absolutely required by the plainest principles of Christianity to manifest towards heathen nations of the present age, the same compassion and benevolence, which, in times long passed, rescued our own pagan ancestors, from darkness and degradation.

2 Allow us to lay before you some of the motives and encouragements to an united and vigorous engagement in the cause of Foreign Missions.

The word of God, and the uniform experience of the Church render it certain, that zealous labours for the conversion of all men, have a direct and powerful tendency, to advance the cause of vital godliness at home. If you steadfastly believe that he that watereth shall himself be watered, you need no farther assurance, that the blessings you measure out to perishing millions, will flow back in rich abundance into your own community, your own families, your own bosoms. Where can be found one Church, or one individual, distinguished for labours and sacrifices in the cause of Missions, that is not equally distinguished for spiritual prosperity? Christians, whose hearts glow with strong desires, and whose hands are employed in active exertions, for the universal extension of the Redeemer's Kingdom, cannot remain in a languid, formal, divided state—cannot slumber over the evils and dangers which immediately surround themselves. Therefore, dear brethren, if you mourn over the desolations of our Zion—if you long to see her walls arise, her gates crowded with converts—engage, we entreat you, with holy energy of soul, in this noble Christian enterprize, and thereby prove me saith the Lord, if he will not pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room to receive it.

The uniform history of Missionary efforts render it undeniable, that the more Christians feel and do, to enlighten and save pagans abroad, the more intense will be their solicitude, the more strenuous their endeavours to raise the standard of piety, and promote genuine revivals at home. It is impossible that a religious community, whose hearts are really moved in view of the misery and degradation of the nations that sit in darkness; and whose prayers and offerings are devoted to the great work of sending to such the light of life, and opening among them fountains of mercy—we say it is impossible for Christians thus engaged, to be cold and negligent, as to the state of religion among themselves. According to the very principles of our nature, there must be, and always is, a powerful reflex influence from efforts to evangelize the heathen. And we have the most unshaken confidence that all the Churches, Sunday Schools, and Bible Classes, you establish among pagans, will be directly instrumental in raising up ten times as many similar institutions among yourselves. Besides, the work of Foreign Missions is so vast—its demands for active, self-denying exertion, so multiplied and pressing, that it summons all the followers of Christ, of every age and station, especially all young disciples, into the vineyard of spiritual labour, and thus universally and powerfully promotes personal piety. While thus the baleful effects of inaction and slothfulness are prevented, by the inspiring calls and animating prospects of this great enterprize, it also ennobles and elevates the character of Christians, and unites them by stronger and more endearing ties. Those whose hearts are so enlarged by love, as to embrace the world—so high and holy in purpose, as to be co-workers with God in sending the blessings of redemption to all men—cannot, dare not, be under the influence of prejudice and party—cannot descend to mingle in the degrading conflicts of sectarian bitterness or personal controversy. Therefore, dear brethren, if you would promote peace and harmony among yourselves—if you would banish discord and jealousy—if you long to see all our Ministers and members in one united phalanx of Christian love pressing forward under the Gospel banner—we entreat you to embrace the most effectual means of producing so blessed a consummation, by engaging heartily in the great work of converting the world.

Besides these motives of a general character, we would suggest some encouragements, which have a special reference to the Churches in the bounds of our own Synod. One of these encouraging facts is, that Divine Providence has placed us under most favourable circumstances for Missionary effort, by assigning us a climate similar to that of the larger portion of the heathen world; so that our sons will encounter vastly less hardship and peril, and enjoy much greater facilities in tropical regions, than those born in a higher latitude.

Another animating circumstance is, that amid the criminal apathy which has pervaded our Churches upon this subject, it has pleased God to put it into the hearts of several of our most promising young men, to devote their lives to this blessed cause. Nor can we omit to mention, with devout gratitude to God, that of the first class, which has completed the course, in our beloved Seminary, one-third have given themselves to Missions among the heathen.

There is still another fact, dear brethren, in relation to yourselves, which deserves serious consideration. It is that God has blessed you with abundance. There is, perhaps, no part of the world where the rewards of industry are so rich, as among ourselves. Hence, arises a fearful danger to Christians and their families. The temperance, economy, and diligence, which result from true piety, naturally produce affluence. And the effect of affluence upon Christians and their children, is grievously to impede the spiritual progress of the former, and frequently to drown the latter in destruction and perdition. Here then the cause of Foreign Missions presents an illimitable claim, a noble appropriation for the abounding gifts.

of Providence. And thus the problem is solved, how a Christian man can be successful in business, and enjoy a large income, without ruining the souls of his children, and piercing himself through with many sorrows. Be entreated, dear brethren, to adopt the noble resolution—"to make all you can, to save all you can, and to give all you can," to the cause of Missions and then your wealth and prosperity will prove a blessing and not a curse to yourselves and the Church.

3. We are fully aware of the common objections, which are continually urged against embarking in this great enterprise, and which have discouraged so many from coming up to the help of the Lord against the mighty. We proceed therefore very briefly to consider some of those arguments which are occasionally used by good men, to vindicate their backwardness to go, or to send, into all the world to preach the Gospel to every creature.

Are any ready to say, we have waste places and desolations at home, which demand as efficient means and efforts as our Churches have ever employed? Then verily, those means and efforts should be increased ten fold; so as to do vastly more than you have ever done at home, and yet reserve your chief resources to meet the calls of a dying world. And if it be true as we have said, that the streams of mercy which you send forth to gladden the regions, where withering famine reigns, will flow back in a full tide of blessings to yourselves—then manifestly the most effectual way, of making your own beloved land the garden of the Lord, is to labour for the universal spread of the Gospel.

Is it urged that there is a loud call for ministers for our own churches, and therefore we ought not to send away our young men to foreign lands, when their labors are imperiously required at home? Upon this point, dear brethren, we would say in the language of scripture, there is that scattereth and yet increaseth. It is our unshaken conviction, in which we are sustained by unquestionable facts, that the most efficacious method of greatly increasing the number of faithful devoted candidates for the Ministry, is to send part of them "far away to the Gentiles." Can any event be more likely to render a Christian family eminently spiritual, than the departure of a beloved son and brother, as a herald of the cross to distant pagan nations ; and will not the younger brothers of such a man be likely to supply his lack of service at home ? Is it possible that a church, having some of her beloved members engaged in a foreign mission, can fail of receiving an elevating, sanctifying influence from such a circumstance ? and will not its direct tendency be to call for other labourers, from the same church, into the vineyard of the Lord ? We know of no richer blessing which can descend upon a family, a congregation, and especially upon a Theological Seminary, than the designation of some of its members to the work.

There are other objections, to the prosecution of this good work, which are raised by unbelief, and which hardly deserve a serious reply.

Tell us not that the time has not come, for the conversion of the world, and therefore that it is presumption to attempt it.

We say the time has come when all who love the Redeemer are under imperative obligations to obey his final, positive command.

Tell us not that the field is too vast, the enterprize too difficult, the obstacles too formidable. It is too late for such unbelieving suggestions. The work is triumphantly begun—the gates of brass have yielded—Jordan is divided—the gates of heathen prejudice are falling at the blast of the Gospel trumpet, and you are called to enter in and possess the land.

Tell us not of the millions of treasure, or the precious lives which must be sacrificed, in this glorious achievement. What is wealth, when weighed in the balance, with the eternal destinies of half the human race : and what greater honour and felicity can be gained by mortal man, than to lay down life in such a cause ? In view of these considerations, we affectionately appeal to your consciences, dear brethren, whether we can be longer satisfied with such poor excuses, and continue so languid and inefficient in discharging this cardinal duty to our perishing fellow men, of sending them the unsearchable riches of Christ. The time has fully come, we confidently believe, when our churches are commanded to awake, to put on strength, to gird themselves and go forward to the work of subduing all nations, by the sword of the Spirit, to the dominion of the King of Kings. This confident persuasion arises not only from reflecting upon the "signs of the times," and the extraordinary aspect both of the Christian and pagan world; but especially from the manner and circumstances of the present movement among us upon this subject, and the evident leadings of Providence in the formation of the Southern Board of Missions.

It was no concerted plan among our ministers, no excited feeling in the churches, that led to this important organization. The subject came before the Synod, when their minds and hearts were fixed upon other duties, seized their attention and opened to their view such a prospect of success, as produced a most cordial and animated engagement in the blessed enterprize.

And now, Christian brethren, we lay before you this system for united, vigorous and efficient action in the cause of Foreign Missions, and affectionately entreat you to unite together with your brethren, in carrying it into full operation. You will soon be visited by an agent of the Board, a beloved son of the Southern Church, who has devoted himself to a Foreign Mission, by whom the subject will be more fully laid before you, and through whose instrumentality we trust the best measures will be adopted, in every congregation, to insure the most enlarged success, in this great work of benevolence.

We cannot doubt that you will joyfully hail the missionary organization as the harbinger of better and brighter days to our Southern Zion. You have now a Board of Foreign Missions, which is indeed your own. It opens to you a field of labour which is appropriated to yourselves. The centre of action and communication is no longer among strangers. Southern Presbyterians can now act as a body, within their own borders.

We offer you our heartfelt congratulations, on the prospect before us. We enter the field under most favorable auspices. The high way to the nations is now open and unobstructed. The most formidable obstacles have been removed, and wide regions prepared for us, by the toil and perseverance of those noble pioneers who have sacrificed their lives in its commencement ; and we enjoy all the important advantages and facilities which have been so dearly purchased. Through numerous channels thus opened, we can pour the streams of our charity, to fertilize any of the barren regions of the earth. We can either select a single portion of pagan territory, and concentrate our efforts in its cultivation ; or we can spread out our benefactions, and disperse our missionaries to every quarter of the globe ; so as to feel a direct and personal interest, in all the missionary stations. Thus our Seminary may be honoured as the nursery of trees of righteousness, whose leaves shall be for the healing of the nations. Thus our Churches may be enriched by the reflex influence of their beloved sons, stationed as lights of the world on far distant shores ; and thus our own prayers and labors will be animated by the consideration that our friends and brethren are leading the armies of the Lord, to the conquest of the world.

Permit us, dear brethren, in view of such motives and proposals, earnestly to exhort you to give all diligence to excite and cherish, in your congregations a spirit of missions, corresponding to the present crisis. Among the means necessary for the purpose, we recommend regular and devout attendance upon the monthly concert of prayer, and the diffusion of the intelligence contained in the Missionary Herald.

By thus promoting an ardent, enlightened zeal in the missionary cause, we feel assured you will most effectually advance the cause of vital experimental religion ; for "the Spirit of Missions is the spirit of Jesus Christ."

We cannot conclude this long and desultory letter, without again adverting to the memorable circumstances which attended the final vote in the Synod, on adopting the Constitution of our board of Missions. It was a scene "never to be forgotten, and never remembered, but with grateful emotions."

The subject had been laid before Synod, in a most providential manner ; and while there was a decided and united feeling in favor of the plan; yet in the view of some, mountains of difficulty were in our way, and others were tempted to shrink from the magnitude of the undertaking. At this moment of trembling suspense, an influence from above evidently descended upon the whole assembly. Instantly there was such a gush of devout feeling, such a melting of heart, such an evident overpowering sense of the immediate presence of God, as we never before witnessed. Before this influence, the objections vanished, the mountains flowed down. Then it was, that all the members of Synod knelt down in prayer; then rising upon their feet, as by one common impulse, and by one united voice, they adopted the Constitution, and while standing they sang with thrilling pathos the "Missionary Hymn," while almost every face was bathed in tears, and almost every frame trembled with intense emotion; and thus closed a scene in an ecclesiastical assembly, the like of which our eyes never saw, our hearts never conceived.

All who were present will bear witness how meagre and inadequate is this description. And this may well be, for religious emotion cannot be described. But we trust all of them will heartily unite with us in devoutly supplicating—

"My God, repeat that heavenly hour,"
 "That vision so divine."

Our object in calling your attention to this memorable incident, in connexion with all the other circumstances, accompanying this organization, is to fix in your minds the same deep settled conviction which we cherish ourselves, that this council or design is not of man, but of God; and thus to inspire you with the same high confidence which we feel, that it will issue in results, which will tend to enlighten and bless the world.

In the bonds of Christian fellowship, we are, dear brethren, your affectionate servants in the Gospel.

Signed by order of the Synod,

A. W. LELAND,
 THOMAS SMITH,
 B. GILDERSLEEVE.
